Creative Quarter improvement works to start at:

Manvers Street and Pennyfoot Street junction

Following Nottingham City Council's recent highway improvement work within the Creative Quarter area we are now pleased to let you know that works to improve the pedestrian facilities and road surfaces at the Manvers Street and Pennyfoot Street junction are to begin.

Works will start on Sunday June 14th and will take 14 weeks to finish (September 20th).

New pedestrian facilities will be installed and roads resurfaced to benefit all road users. Traffic signals will make it much easier and safer for pedestrians to cross at this busy junction.

The existing signals will be removed and some restrictions will be introduced. Newark Street will be closed during the works with diversions via Lower Eldon Street. Traffic will also be unable to turn right from Pennyfoot Street into Manvers Street. The improvement works will take 14 weeks. The first phase of improvements will be to improve road and pavements surfacing on Sneinton Road and Manvers Street.

The work is part of a programme of works to support economic growth in the Creative Quarter, funded by Nottingham City Council and the European Regional Development Fund (ERDF).

While these works are underway we would advise all road users who use these junctions to consider alternative routes or to follow the diversion routes which will be sign posted throughout the nearby area.

There will also be changes to the bus services that normally use Pennyfoot Street.

NCT Red 44/44A: Buses into the city from Gedling are unaffected. Buses to Gedling will follow the normal route to Lower Parliament Street but instead of using Pennyfoot Street, will turn left onto Southwell Road, right onto Sneinton Road, right onto Eyre Street and left onto Manvers Street to the normal route. Buses will stop at Southwell Road and Eyre Street but the stop at Pennyfoot Street will not be used during the works.

N100: Buses will be follow the normal route to Lower Parliament Street, but then turn left onto Southwell Road, right onto Sneinton Road, right onto Eyre Street and left onto Manvers Street to resume the normal route.

Citylink 2: Buses from the City will follow the normal route to Canal Street but will then then turn right onto London Road at the BBC Island, turn left onto Cattle Market Road and proceed along County Road, and Meadow Lane to resume the normal route at Daleside Road roundabout. The stop on Pennyfoot Street is withdrawn. The inbound routes will NOT be affected.

We will do all we can to minimise disruption and apologise for any inconvenience the works may cause.
