Description

No111 Trowell Road was originally a pair of cottages until 1925, it has now been so heavily rendered that its history has been almost entirely obscured. It is another example of overcrowding. In 1871 we had the Davis family of eight in one half and the Rodgers family in the other half of this semi detached cottage. Henry Rodgers(51) was also a collier, so presumably the whole of this property was in the gift of the Colliery Manager. The Rogers family comprised two adults and seven children, so in all there were seventeen people in 4 bedrooms and 2 attic rooms all in a cottage that is now in single family occupation!
